

THE FALLEN

COMIC · TWIST · LIGHT

01

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The Fallen is a 2.5D fighting game with a comic-book art direction, built for the Comic, Twist, Light jam theme. The player is a reformed Villain who is warned that the Hero is coming to kill him for a crime he did not commit. Across four boss encounters, linked by illustrated comic panels, he gains power, collects evidence and exposes the Hero as the real culprit. The world begins in monochrome ink and gains colour and light with every clue, so the theme is delivered through both story and mechanics.

02

THEME ALIGNMENT

COMIC
The whole game is a comic page: inked art, halftone shading, speech-bubble story beats between fights, and POW / CRACK onomatopoeia on every hit.

TWIST
The Hero is the one who committed the crime, to keep his glory and attention. The reveal recolours the player's understanding of the whole story, and the Villain becomes the true hero.

LIGHT
Hero's weapon is light, Villain's is darkness. Darkness attacks shrinks the arena's visible area. Each clue found adds colour and light back to the world.

03

NARRATIVE STRUCTURE

01

ACT 1: THE WARNING
Villain lives in peace at the world's edge. A messenger brings news: the Hero is coming to destroy him over a new large-scale crime. The Villain is alone and unprepared.

02

ACT 2: THE CLIMB
He crosses the magical forest, fights 2 monsters, gains new dark powers and finds the first clues about who really committed the crime. He returns stronger than before. The Hero arrives; the Villain wounds him badly, then flees when humans rush to the Hero's aid.

03

ACT 3: THE TRUTH
The final boss guards the last piece of evidence: the Hero himself committed the crime. The Villain collects all pieces and exposes it, and becomes the true Hero.

04

CORE GAMEPLAY

01 FIGHT
2D side-view duel in a Street Fighter style, with parallax backgrounds to give the 2.5D depth look.

02 MOVEMENT
Moves: walk, jump, block, light attack, heavy attack, one special (darkness blast). Final boss unlocks a hybrid dark+light attack.

03 STORY
Story between fights is told in static comic panels (click to advance), not cutscenes.

04 LIGHT
Light meter: the arena's light level changes the fight. Dark = Villain deals more damage but sees less. Clues collected raise the baseline light.

05 WIN CONDITION
Beat the 3 winnable fights, survive the Hero fight (scripted retreat), collect all clues.

05

ENCOUNTER STRUCTURE

STAGE	OPPONENT	PURPOSE	REWARD / STORY BEAT
1	Magical Forest I	Tutorial: teaches moves	Dark power 1 + Clue 1 (comic panel)
2	Magical Forest II	Tests combos and light meter	Dark power 2 + Clue 2
3	Edge of the World	Unwinnable-feeling duel: Villain wins on damage, then flees as humans arrive	Hero's glory shown; suspicion grows
4	Hall of Evidence	Hardest fight; unlocks hybrid attack	Final clue: Hero is the culprit (twist panel)

THE FALLEN / GAME SYSTEMS & PRODUCTION

06

LIGHT AND DARKNESS SYSTEM

BLACK / WHITE

The game opens in black, white and one ink colour.

- Darkness attacks drain light from the arena, shrinking the visible area on screen.
- Ending payoff: the Villain does not borrow the Hero's light. He produces his own, a dark+light hybrid attack, in the final fight.

CLUE 1

Clue 1 adds yellow.

CLUE 2

Clue 2 adds red.

FULL COLOUR

The final clue floods the page with full colour.

07

ART, AUDIO AND GAME FEEL

ART

Thick ink outlines, halftone dots, limited palette, speech bubbles and caption boxes. The twist flashback uses a different colour palette.

JUICE

Hit pause, screen shake, onomatopoeia pop-ups, page-turn transition between stages.

AUDIO

Short punchy hit sounds, one looping track per act, a distinct sting for the reveal.

RISK MANAGEMENT

RISK FIGHTING-GAME COMPLEXITY MITIGATION

One light, one heavy, one special only. No combo system. One AI script reused for every enemy.

RISK ART TAKES TOO LONG MITIGATION

Reuse one layout for all panels. Spend the most art effort on the twist panel only.

RISK RUNNING OUT OF TIME MITIGATION

Cut a fight before cutting polish. Fall fights (forest, Hero, final boss).
